Lesson four: 1976 drought researchers

The DRY Utility have appointed you as a researcher. They have tasked you with going and finding some more 1976 drought stories from your friends and families. Think about what age your parents, guardians, grandparents, aunts, uncles and neighbours will have been in 1976 and ask them for their account of the drought. Record it as a narrative below and be prepared to report back with your findings next lesson!
