

Analyse the photograph of your chosen research location. Make annotations around the outside of the photograph - however instead of writing down your observations you can only write questions. Think about the deeper geography represented in that place and the concepts that underpin them. Equally, think about what the photograph does not show.

Who might...

?

What links with

?

How could...

?

To what extent does...

?

Stick a picture of your research location here

What might cause...

?

What factors...

?

What impact may...

?

What may have caused...

?