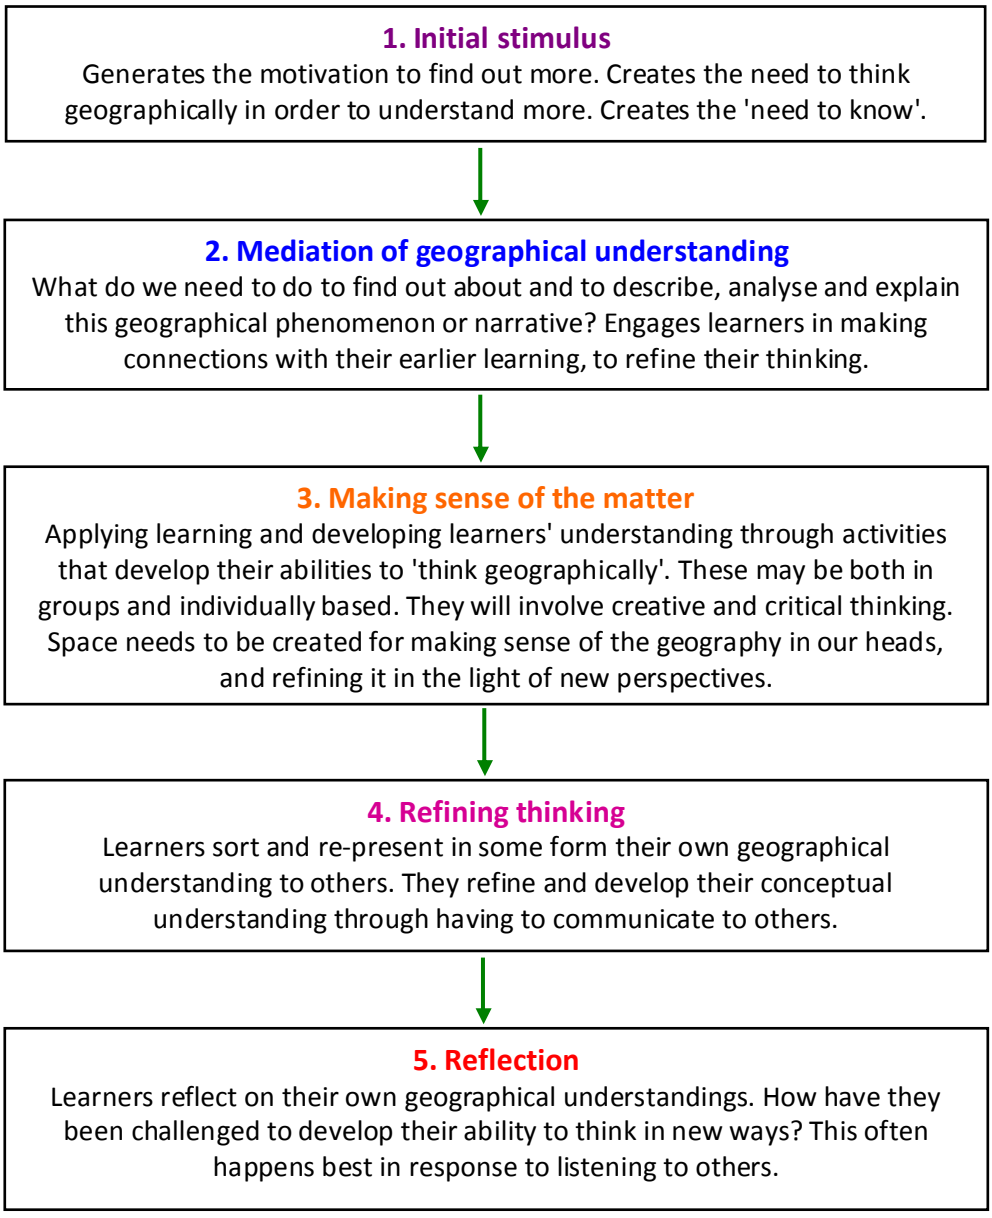
A teaching and learning sequence

This teaching and learning sequence could be said to describe an 'education for conversation'. Conversation is a great metaphor for educational processes that aspire to engage learners in 'travelling with a different view'.



Geographical Association